

Good morning all,
Happy Tuesday! We hope you and your families are all okay. Thank you to all of you for your hard work and perseverance during this period. We have been amazed with your scientific knowledge and it looks as though you are all experts on plants! It looks as though the sun is making an appearance again this week. So why not get out into the sunshine and do a spot of reading. We would love to hear about what books you have been reading and why you have enjoyed them, so please keep us informed.
